A warm welcome to our very first edition

Allan Rookyard, Managed Workspace Centre Manager

Our Managed Workspace Magazine is an opportunity to give tenants an insight into what is taking place within their Centre and other Centres operated by Hull City Council. In this we discuss and share latest news relating to business within the city and showcase our talented tenants that reside within our Centre walls.

Our MWM is a place where tenants will get the opportunity to advertise for free and learn of new projects running throughout the city which you may not know about. Helping to improve communication from our staff to you to ensure that you are up-to-date with the latest business news and information. We understand the importance and value of this and recognise the impact and good it can have on your business. We further acknowledge the importance and need for this to be shared frequently and regularly.

2020 will also see the launch of our new website, podcast channel and social media sites which we can't wait to share with you all.

Major transformation gives contemporary look

Changing times Louis Pearlman Centre

2019 saw the beginning of the biggest transformation works at the Louis Pearlman Centre since the 1990s, modernising the centre and ready to support businesses well into the future.

Louis Pearlman Centre has taken its first steps on a major refurbishment project, seeing changes to layout and aesthetics of the building. You only need to walk into the reception to see the level of work and changes that have gone into the building. The building feels brighter and more vibrant and with addition plans afoot, we are committed to continue to invest back into our Centres for our tenants who chose to reside with us. These works are due to complete early 2020, with phase 2 works beginning mid-2020.

The Centre has seen updates to existing rooms, communal spaces and current facilities. These include the all new look to the conference room which has been extended and features an interactive whiteboard and new furniture. Our smaller ground floor meeting area has been updated as well as our first floor meeting room. On our first floor communal pods in the atrium (like those at the Craven Park Training and Enterprise Centre) have been added for comfort and use for staff wanting to hold informal meetings or have comfortable waiting areas. These new conference rooms will help accommodate meetings of any size.

As well as the meeting space, the rear of the Centre sees additional changes too. As part of phase 1, the Centre will now have a main breakout area, which will be open to all tenants to use at their leisure. Inside the breakout area features vending machines, kitchenette, Microwave and Dishwashing machine. We will look to use this space as a key area for future networking meetings for breakfast and afternoon events. Planning permission has recently been acquired to start phase 2 works which will see a new rear entrance being built, with separate Bike Shed and Shower facilities for all tenants and staff. If you require more information on this please speak with the Centre Manager.

The Centre has seen changes in the lighting and ventilation, with the entire ground floor corridors receiving new lighting, with new lighting being added within the reception, first floor and stepping stones entrance. Ground floor offices within the main building have seen their ventilation improved and future plans look to add more eco-friendly solutions to light and heat the building. This includes electric car charging points to be added and installed on our car park.

All of these new facilities will be available not just to tenants of the Louis Pearlman Centre, but any tenant of Hull City Council Managed Workspace Centres.
